POLITICAL CAMPAIGN WARMING UP PRISONER ATTACKS 9 YEAR OLD GIRL, ESCAPES; REAL WILD WEST RODEO PROMISED RICHMOND

YOUTH FLEES JAIL ATTACKS SMALL GIRL AND ESCAPES

Joseph Diaz, a 22-year-old youth serving six months in the county jail on a charge of petty larceny, as the result of alleged thefts from the home of a Japanese on the Sweet ranch recently, escaped from the trusty gang working in the court-house garden on Friday afternoon.

On Saturday morning a posse from the Sheriff's office was combing the hills in back of Martinez looking for Diaz.

After escaping from the court-house grounds on Friday evening Diaz went back to the Alhambra valley, where he is reported to have robbed the house of Y. Kawamoto, a Japanese living on the Thomas R. Ball ranch. Diaz secured $10 from the Japanese.

Reports reached the Richmond police last night that the prisoner had made a criminal attack on a 9-year-old girl during the interim between his escape from the jail and the time of his get-away into the hills.

The police here are co-operating with the sheriff's office in efforts to locate Diaz.

Eastern Star Matron of Denver to Visit Richmond

Mrs. D. A. Cowell, of Denver, Colorado, will arrive in San Francisco this morning on the steamer Santa Ana, from Habana, Cuba, and will spend sometime in the bay cities, according to information to her nephew, Max Sheahan, steward at the Richmond Elks' club.

Mrs. Cowell is matron of Radiant chapter, Order of Eastern Star, Denver. Her husband who died a few months ago was superintendent of the United States mint in Denver, and was a prominent Shriner of that city.

Mrs. Cowell is making an extensive tour, which before its completion will include a visit to the Far North. Max Sheahan was advised by wireless yesterday to be on the lookout today for his aunt.

Waist Shop to Open Tuesday

A specialty store to be known as the "Waist Shop" is to be opened Tuesday morning at 709 Macdonald avenue by Mrs. Lucille J. Applebaum. Carpenters and painters are now busy getting the store in readiness for the opening day, and the new store will be quite an acquisition to the avenue. The store will specialize on ladies' waists, hats, and baby clothes, and there is no one more competent than Mrs. Applebaum to advise mothers or prospective mothers as to the proper clothes for babies, as she has been a nurse in Richmond for the past ten years.

MR. AND MRS. MAX HOLTZ HERE ON HONEYMOON

Mr. and Mrs. Max Holtz, of Long Beach, will arrive in Richmond today and be the house guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Milnes, for a few days. They are traveling by automobile, enjoying their honeymoon, having been married in Los Angeles, on May 29.

MINISTER HOME FROM EVANSTON

The congregation of Wesley Methodist church at Ninth and Main, will welcome their pastor, Dr. Paul Little, at this morning's services, he and Mrs. Little having reached Richmond last night from Evanston, Illinois, where he had been in attendance as a delegate upon the sessions of the Social Service convention of the M. E. church.

Inspired by the grandeur of the scenery of the Colorado canyons, the wide stretches of the great plains of the Middle West, the majestic sweep of the Father of Waters, the snow-tipped pinnacles of the high Sierras and the rushing currents of the Feather River, Dr. Little at the 11 o'clock service today will talk on "The Wonders of Nature." The evening service will be in keeping with the aims and purposes of the recent convention.

Seat of University. Evanston is the seat of the Northwestern University, which is Methodism's most pretentious college. Both Dr. and Mrs. Little are alumnae of Northwestern.

The convention was attended by 225 delegates who came from practically every state in the Union, there not only were great ministers, but some of the outstanding lay figures of the church in North America.

Bishop Francis McConnell, of Pittsburgh, Pa., who Dr. Little says is "without doubt the foremost bishop in Methodism," was prominent at the convention, where a clearer understanding of the attitude of the church towards Capital and Labor was reached.

The sessions were held at Garrett Biblical Institute.

The Littles were guests of Mrs. Little's mother whom she had not seen for many years.

They are happy to be back in Richmond again.

RICHMOND CLUB PICNIC MONDAY

Richmond Club will hold their last meeting for the club year tomorrow. They will celebrate the event by going to Live Oak Park, Berkeley, where a picnic will be enjoyed. All those who are going are requested to meet at Sixteenth street and Macdonald avenue at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning.

Mrs. L. W. Conwell is in charge of arrangements, and hopes all members will be present.

Rodeo Here Will Be The Real Thing

A trick horse, that will do almost everything but roll a cigarette is only one of the many attractions that will be listed in Richmond's first real Wild West Rodeo to be held here on June 10 and 11, according to E. E. Grow, of Richmond, who is making possible the big event.

An Unusual Horse. This particular horse is the property of "Cowboy Dick," who is employed by the Santa Fe and lives in East Richmond. Dick says if you can strike him in the presence of that horse and get away with it, he'll give you the horse. But it can't be done. The horse ordinarily is gentle as a dog and docile as a lamb, but let the weight of your index finger touch one hair on Dick's head, and you'll think all the tories of hell have torn loose. That's the kind of horse we are telling you about.

26 Horses Have Arrived. Yesterday twenty-six horses in charge of four men reached here from the "Big Celebration" at Sacramento. After their exhibition here, the bunch will move onto San Francisco and entertain the Shriners.

Rodeo Arena Is Ideal. Grow has twenty acres of land on his ranch for the purposes of the Rodeo. On six sides of the theatre automobiles can park, and up on the hill, overlooking the place, is an ideal vantage point, from which spectators may get a fine picture of all the performance.

There'll be relay races, "Pony Express" trick riding, roping, bull riding, potato race and free-for-all races. Many Valuable Prizes. Lots of valuable prizes will be offered, including a big wad of kale, and amateurs from all over the county are invited to take part.

"The best and the worst horses in the West will be here. It's going to be a real, roaring first class Rodeo," E. E. Grow told the Record-Herald last night.

M. J. B. CLUB IN ORIENTAL DANCE

The Richmond Clubhouse was the scene of a unique and colorful event last evening when the M. J. B. Club gave its first Oriental dance. The affair brought out one of the largest dancing crowds of the season and was a decided success.

The ballroom was effectively arranged so as to have the appearance of a sheik's palace, with colored lanterns hung around the sides giving the scene an Oriental effect. The sheik's orchestra, each member of which was attired in oriental costume, capably furnished oriental music for the dancers behind a silk screen. The sheik's wine, especially imported for the occasion, made a great hit and was soon disposed of.

The committee in charge desired to furnish the dancing public with something different, and how well it succeeded was shown by the enthusiasm of the participants. The club plans to hold another of these enjoyable affairs in the near future.

The decoration committee was composed of Al Wilson, chairman; assisted by Charles Renwick, Gay Vargas, Al Axelson, Art Muth, Al Rowe and George McCoy.

KUEFFER UP COUNTRY.

E. E. Kueffer, well known realty operator and candidate for public administrator, made a trip up country yesterday.

Lull Before Storm In County Politics; Numerous Candidates

Notwithstanding the efforts that have been made to keep candidates out of the field for county offices, the high salaries that will go into effect at the first of the year—not by the grace of the taxpayers of the county—but by the polities—have proved too alluring, and at the present time there is every indication that one of the most interesting campaigns Contra Costa county has witnessed in the past twenty years will take place this year, and that there will be aspirants out for practically every elective office in the county.

Lull Before the Storm. So far things have been very quiet, but it seems to have been a case of a lull before the storm. The last legislature provided for big increases in the salaries of officers of this county, and they will take effect at the beginning of next year. Here, before most of the officers received $3250 per year; this has been raised to $4000 in most cases while in others the raises have been $4500, $5000 and $6000. Outside the counties of Los Angeles and San Francisco, the county officers of Contra Costa will enjoy salaries higher than practically any other county in the state.

Another reason to bring out candidates this year is that most of the incumbents have served for the past sixteen years; and four years, on account of war conditions were not even obliged to make a campaign, as the unusual conditions prevented new candidates.

Three for Sheriff. The earliest fight of the campaign to start is that of the sheriff. Sheriff R. R. Veale is a candidate to succeed himself, and will make his campaign on his record, while he will have as his opponents, Frank H. Nixon, a foreman of the Shell Oil Company at Martinez, and Antonio Reggardo, world war veteran, and later transient officer of this county. There is strong talk that even a fourth candidate may enter the contest.

District Attorney's Job. Many an attorney is casting a covetous eye on the office of district attorney, as it will pay $6000 a year after January 1st, instead of $3250, while providing for three high salary deputies, this providing for the chief to devote a great deal of his time to private practice. It is generally understood that Archibald B. Tinning will be a candidate to succeed himself, A. S. Ormsby, former deputy under former district attorney T. D. Johnston is to be a contender, and there is talk that will not down that Wilbur S. Pierce, well known attorney of Richmond, will shy his hat in the ring.

Assessor's Fat Plum. The office of county assessor carries with it a salary of $6000, just $500 per month, and perquisites—and this is not to be sneezed at. From the talk that is heard the present holder of the position, George O. Meese is to have opposition. While Henry A. Johnston, well known resident of this city, has not made a positive announcement as yet, the many friends say he is to make the race. Johnston is well fitted for the office, being a farmer, and for a number of years has qualified as an expert of real estate valuations. This contest may be a three cornered one, as it is stated that Louis Davis is already mapping out his campaign.

Woman for Superintendent. It is understood that William Ramsdell, principal of the schools at Pittsburg is to be a contender for the position of superintendent of schools against William H. Hanlon, and it is also strongly hinted that a well known lady teacher of Richmond is to make an announcement in a short time. The new salary of this office is $5,000, or $1,000 more than is paid the superintendent of schools of Alameda county.

Donnelly and Curry. Charles F. Donnelly, (incumbent) and Bert Curry, who opposed each other four years ago for coroner have entered the field again. Under the changes that have been made in the county government act, which increased the fees for holding inquests from $10 to $25, and with the deputy and office rent that is allowed this official, it is said the office from 1923 on, will pay about $5,000 per year. This contest has already warmed up, and promises to be a very interesting one.

Kueffer for Administrator. The contenders for the office of Public Administrator will be E. H. Kueffer, well known realtor and bond man of Richmond and Charles E. Daley the incumbent. Kueffer made a remarkable fight two years ago, and was only noosed out by a few votes. Chapman for Surveyor. If reports are correct Ralph Arnold, the present county engineer will have to fight to retain title to his office. The current rumor is that city engineer H. D. Chapman is to enter the ring, and may possibly have as his running mate, Ross L. Calfee, engineer of the San Pablo Sanitary district and E. E. Grow, who made the fight four years ago.

Race for Assessor. While he has not definitely made the statement that he will be a candidate for assessor, it is generally believed that Attorney T. M. Carlson, attorney of this city, and commander of Richmond Post, American Legion, is to make the race. State-ment have also been made that Attorney Tsar N. Calfee of this city, and Attorney Ralph N. Wright of Martinez, may contend for the same position.

BOUTILLIER DIVORCE SUIT SAYS HIS WIFE DRANK BOOZE

Charging that his wife, Jean Boutillier, has drunk to excess and has failed to curb their son, Louis, 15, who he says is constantly in petty mischief, E. L. Boutillier, of Richmond yesterday filed suit for divorce in which he asks the custody of his son. The couple married in Paris in 1900. Will S. Roberson is attorney for plaintiff.

Boutillier is well known in Richmond, where he is engaged in the typewriter repair business.

2 Churches Unite For Big Picnic

More than 200 merry-makers gathered at East Shore Park yesterday when the Sunday schools of the First Presbyterian church of Richmond and the Stege Presbyterian church gathered for their annual picnic, which was made a joint affair.

The fun began in the forenoon, and was one continuous round of jollity and pleasure till the dropping of the sun warned the folks that 'twas time to go home. A fine basket luncheon was spread under the trees at noon time, and in the afternoon the sports events took place.

Races. Girls and boys 6 and under, Lloyd Carlson first and Robert Dunwoodie second.

Shue Mahute second. Girls 7 and 8, Edith Teese first. Girls 9 to 10, Eleanor Paulson first, Violet Gardell second.

Boys 9 to 11, Henry Spiree first, Bridget Patterson second.

Girls 12 to 14, May Arnold first, Opal Wilson second.

Boys 12 to 14, Charles Cook, first, Reed Bullock, second.

In the preachers' running race, Rev. H. K. Sanborn, of Richmond, was an easy winner, with Rev. E. L. Webb, of Stege, second.

Boys 9 to 10, Cecil Bowman, first, Burl Miller, second.

Girls 15 and over, Anna Thompson, first, Janet Teese, second.

In the baseball game between the Men's Bible Class and Dr. Giberson's Young Men's Class, the latter won by the decisive score of 9 to 5, "but it was a good game," said Dr. Sanborn.

Neils Jepson and Harry Plate quickly outdistanced all contestants in the three-legged sack race, and won first prize.

The committees that made the event so successful were: Games. Dr. W. W. Giberson, chairman; Rev. H. K. Sanborn, A. H. McKenna, C. W. Lancaster, Mrs. W. J. Laird, Mrs. A. H. Pough and Mrs. Fred Hainschield.

Transportation. J. E. Snoddy, G. H. Fulkerson and Fred Young.

Refreshments. Mrs. F. J. Laird, Mrs. A. H. Pough, and Mrs. J. H. Plate.

CHAPTER III.—On his first day in New York, Lindsay is attacked with water by a janitor. That individual the janitor punches him and leaves him to a fire hydrant. A young woman who sees the occurrence invites him to her home and hides him from the police.

CHAPTER IV.—Clay's "rescue" intruder here as Beatrice Whitford, Lindsay's sister, is invited to visit him. He meets her at a party at a friend's home. He is disappointed in her stage of development, and to support himself he goes to a cabaret.

CHAPTER V.—Clay is in the city as a customer. After a minor Lindsay episode, Lindsay is attacked by Jerry Durand and his team.

CHAPTER VI.—Lindsay's acquaintance with Beatrice Whitford is continued. He is introduced into "society" by her. Lindsay is on the artistic road, but is not to the "big town."

CHAPTER VII.—The two take an apartment. Lindsay is a "hobby man." An advertisement about "Kitty" is seen. Lindsay is in a rooming house. Clay is dubious as to its authenticity, but finally decides to go. He makes his way into what he supposed to be the right house and finds himself in a young woman's room.

CHAPTER VIII.—Lindsay is naturally not the reason for his unquiet intrusion. Lindsay is in the rooming house. Lindsay is in the rooming house. Lindsay is in the rooming house.

CHAPTER IX.—With a theater party which includes Lindsay, Lindsay is in the rooming house. Lindsay is in the rooming house. Lindsay is in the rooming house.

CHAPTER X.—Beatrice resents Lindsay's interest in Kitty. Though not admitting it, even to herself, she is becoming attached to the Arizona, as he is to her. The two part in anger.

CHAPTER XI.—Hurt and indignant, Beatrice tries to marry to an old admirer, Clarence Bromfield, a wealthy man-about-town, and the third number of the party which met Lindsay at the beginning of the story. Their engagement is announced. Lindsay is in the rooming house.

CHAPTER XII.—At the place, Clay conceals himself to await the arrival of Lindsay. Lindsay is in the rooming house. Lindsay is in the rooming house.

CHAPTER XIII.—Clay is rescued from his abductors by Johnnie Green, who has long admired him. He is in the rooming house. Lindsay is in the rooming house.

The girl's father clenched his fist. A flush of anger swept his ruddy cheeks. He held himself, however, to the subject.

"You forget, Mr. Durand, that Lindsay was my guest last night."

"That's right. I'd forget that. He was your guest, wasn't he, Bromfield?"

"What's the good of discussing it here?" asked the tortured host.

"Not a bit," admitted Whitford. "Actions talk more words. Have you seen the police yet, Bromfield?"

"N-not yet."

"What's he gonna see the police about?" Jerry wanted to know, his chin jutting out.

"To tell them that he saw Collins draw a gun and heard shots fired," retorted the mining man instantly.

"Now that he's been telling me he'll not pull any more story—not unless he wants to get himself in a cell for life," said Jerry.

"Talk sense. You can't frighten Bromfield. He knows that's foolishness."

"Does he?" The crook turned derisive eyes on the victim he was torturing.

Certainly the society man did not look a picture of confidence. The shadow of a heavy frown over him.

The telephone rang. Bromfield's trembling fingers picked up the transmitter. He listened a moment, then turned it over to Beatrice.

"For you."

Her part of the conversation was limited. It consisted of the words "Yes" repeated at intervals and a concluding, "Oh, I'm so glad. Thank you."

Her eyes were sparkling when she hung up.

"Good news, dad," she said. "I'll tell you later."

Durand laughed brutally as he rose. "Good news, eh? Get all you can. You'll need it. Take that from me, it's straight. Your friend's in trouble up to the neck. He swears to the doctor and turned. 'Don't forget, Bromfield. Keep out this or you'll be sorry.' His wife was like the crack of a train's whip to animals in a circus."

For once, Bromfield did not jump through the hoop. "Oh, go to the devil," he said in irritation, frowning angrily.

"Better not get any with me," advised Durand sourly.

After the door had closed on him there was a momentary pause. The younger man spoke awkwardly. "You can tell me now what it was Mr. Lindsay told you."

"We'd like to know for sure whether you're with us or with Durand," said Whitford finally. "Of course we know the answer to that. You're with us, but we want to hear you say it, flat-out."

"Of course I'm with you. That is, I'm with you. I don't want to get into trouble. I don't want to get into trouble. I don't want to get into trouble."

Beatrice, watching the younger man closely, saw in a flash the solution of this mystery—the explanation of the tangle to which various scattered threads had been leading her.

"Are you sure of that, dad?"

"How could he be hurt, Bec?"

The girl let Bromfield have it straight from the shoulder. "Because Clay

PROSPECT OF SUBWAY WORK RIGHT AWAY CAUSES JOY

When and if the resolution of intention is enacted by the City Council Monday evening, and the plans and specifications drafted by City Engineer H. D. Chapman are approved for the improvement of the subway at Sixteenth and Macdonald, the factories of the city ought to make known the fact by blowing their whistles.

The subway need is one of the most pressing that confronts the city. That fact is not debatable. In its present state it not only is an eyesore and an affront to the esthetic tastes of the people, but it appears to be a menace to life and limb.

The province of this paper is not to tell the Council which plan is the most equitable or the most rational, but there will be general rejoicing if on Tuesday morning the Record-Herald can carry the news that work will be started immediately to install the subway.

Pupils Of City Have Deposits

Students of Richmond seemed to have learned that "he who buys what he does not need, will soon need what he cannot buy."

And while Benjamin Franklin's words are not included in the regular course, the youngsters appear to have learned some of the homely truths found in Poor Richard's Philosophy.

Instance: the savings system of the public schools of the city show a total of $12,429.23, and an average of 150 new accounts has been added monthly, since January, according to Superintendent W. T. Helms. The average weekly deposits have amounted to $300.

SHRINERS ARE COMING! RICHMOND HAS CHANCE TO BOOST THIS TOWN

When the Shriners come to San Francisco there will be a big overflow of delegates who literally will "ooze" over to the East Bay cities, and whose red faces will permeate the landscape, and whose questions of "how come" and "why" will only precede the exclamation "Oh!"

Richmond Will Attract Naturally, and surely, Richmond will be the objective of a lot of those folks from New England and New York and the Atlantic Seaboard, and the South and Middle West.

They are coming, ten thousand times ten, plus. High type citizens, too. Representative of the cream of the country's culture and the very skimmings of her wealth.

High Type Visitors

A class of visitors that it will pay Richmond to cater to.

What do you know about Richmond?

When the man from Bangor, Me., or Montpelier, Vt., asks you what the mean temperature is in Richmond can you tell him?

Suppose the guy from Broadway wants to know how long it takes to reach the theaters of O'Farrell and Market streets, can you give him the schedule?

Then the high brow from Boston who will love to boast of Harvard may want to have the low down on the curriculum at California.

When the connoisseur of oil men from Pittsburgh or Oil City tells you of the quantity of petroleum and its grade that may be found in Western Pennsylvania and Ohio, can you counter with the gravity and price of the home product?

Get Wise to Richmond

Here's the point: Post yourself on Richmond, San Francisco, California, and the Coast.

Don't be mealy-mouthed in telling them that Richmond's growth in the period marked by the last decennial census was 147 per cent, and that the city is only a little over 31.

And don't lower your voice when you tell 'em truly that Contra Costa County has the highest per capita purchasing power of any county in the United States.

Try Your Lung Power

Blew loud and hard when you break the news to their skeptical ears that this climate right here at the base of Mt. Tamalpais is one free from frost bites and sun strokes. It'll make the chaps from Chicago and the boys from the cotton belt of Dixie wince with envy, but when a man of ambition or energy or wealth feels that any coming into his eye, he gets up and hustles for the object of his envy.

You know that Richmond is a good town, and that it really has a glorious climate, marvelous industries, splendid schools, good churches, wonderful highways, fine factory sites, plenty of room for good citizens and an honest desire to have them come in here.

Get wise to all the advantages here and prime your talking apparatus to tell it to the Shriners.

1 DAILY DODGE BROS. RECORD

Selling one automobile a day every day in the week may seem just a small thing to do, but it's an achievement that brings pleasure to any firm, and is an undertaking no novice will affect. That is the record which J. E. Strom, agent in Richmond for Dodge Brothers cars, reports.

The deliveries include a classy roadster to Supervisor Zeb Knott; a touring car to R. Santini, proprietor of Hotel Colombo, 100 Standard avenue; touring car to J. W. Piquet, well known foreman for the Union Oil company at Oleum; roadster to George Conlon, constable for 431 Cerrito; and a touring car for Frank Martin, owner of the beautiful Valley Home ranch in Alhambra Valley.

Strom is making every effort to keep his customers supplied with cars and with quick deliveries, but prospective buyers should remember that this is the busiest period of the buying year and they will get full benefit of the summer touring season to place their orders at.

City's White Way Gives Town High Moral Tone

Richmond's White Way is one that will stand sharp comparison with the best of the country.

The globes, throwing out their soft light, are a joy to the motorists and pedestrians that use Macdonald avenue, and also prove a deterrent to the gentry who, like the lilies of the field, "will not, neither do they spin," but subsist upon lucre fished from the pockets of folks who are unmercenary enough to give up their week's wages at the point of a gun.

The eighty lamps of 400 candle power each are a fine asset to the city, and that they were expeditiously and properly installed is due to the industry of Manager George N. Rooker of the Western States Gas Electric Company.

20 ACRES BRING $9,000, CONCORD

Theodore C. Gelbke of Concord on Saturday sold to W. I. Kavin and wife of that place, twenty acres of land located on the Clayton road. According to the revenue stamps attached to the deed, the consideration was $9,000.

Deeds were also filed on Saturday conveying two lots from the Port Costa Development Company to John H. Parker of Port Costa. The price paid was $2600, according to the revenue stamps.

Fraternities Of Richmond Plan To Own Their Homes

Richmond has the reputation, seemingly deserved, of having the greatest number, proportionately of lodges and fraternities of any city in California.

It's interesting to note that many of them that do not "own their own" homes are making plans to overcome that handicap.

Red Men Active

Recently the Red Men showed the metal of which they are made when at a meeting in their lodge rooms they raised more than $1500. Of course that does not seem a large sum, but it shows the pluck and the spirit of the fraternity. And a few meetings like that will put a lot of cash into their coffers, and give them a good sized starter for their building. They already own their lots—valuable lots, too.

Masons' Prospects

The Masons are talking seriously of their temple. The lot they own at Tenth and Macdonald is really one of the most desirable lots in Richmond. And their association is strong in numbers and talent. They may be expected soon to "start something."

Odd Fellows Here

Three linkers, or Odd Fellows, growing here steadily, are going to make real estate owners sit up and blink some morning when they read that "ground will be broken" and the cornerstone laid for a home for Odd Fellows.

Key System Is Making Repairs

Repairs on Macdonald avenue along the street car rails were being made yesterday by the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway. The pavement has become cracked and rough between the rails and the repairs will improve the avenue for the motorists.

The Telephone Directory

Good telephone service depends vitally upon care in calling telephone numbers. A wrong number called causes loss of time to you, to the party called and to the operator. Every instance means avoidable inconvenience to all concerned.

It is not the loss of time to you alone or to the operator that concerns us most, but it is the annoyance to the party called. Your mistake cannot be explained to him, and the Telephone Company is held responsible for your error.

Consulting the current issue of the telephone directory, instead of trusting to memory; giving your number clearly, and quickly correcting the operator if she misunderstands your call, will greatly increase the efficiency of the service.

SUNDAY MORNING CHATS

Richmond, June 4, 1922.

Dear Hull:

We certainly do enjoy your editorials—you show us wherein we are being robbed. That 40 per cent of the workingman's wages that you speak of in this morning's paper is leading many to the bread line. Fortunately, individually, we own our home, but it is now only a question of time, with our earning power decreasing, until this same home will be taken away for taxation and living expenses. What is to be done? We must start to do it now, or it will be too late for the solution of this problem. You condemn the I. W. W., the Bolsheviks, Socialists and radicals of whatever kind for trying to remedy the social conditions—what, then, is the real remedy?

Further you are belaboring Conan Doyle and others of similar beliefs, so please tell us the sure thing in regard to the future.

ONE WHO WANTS TO KNOW.
P. S.—We stuck by you in the News and are still with you, as we can't help but like you, Brother.

The above came by mail yesterday, and we like to receive such letters, for they show that people are thinking; and also that we have a few friends scattered around over this townsite, for which we are very thankful. The real friendship of the Richmond people has been the goal and reward we have been striving to gain for a dozen years; not money, pelf or power.

The problems alluded to by our correspondent are the ones that are puzzling the greatest statesmen of the world, and the nations they represent, but if good old-fashioned principles of manhood are applied to them there is nothing wonderful or hard about them to solve. We as a people bring about all conditions ourselves, and we as a people can solve them by stopping the mistakes and proclivities in our own selves which bringeth them about. But we do not do it, and for the reason that, so far, human nature is selfish, greedy and not overly honest.

It does not seem almost incredible that 40 per cent of the workingman's wages are taken away from him in this country in the way of taxation, but so the figures show, and it is a lamentable fact, and one that calls for action from the masses of the people themselves, as the politicians will never give us a remedy, for the reason that they juggle the money—the billions—which this forty per cent totals up to. Of course, we do not pay this directly, but indirectly. If we had to go up to the tax collector's office and plank down forty per cent of our earnings every month, we would soon do something about it; but as it comes in an indirect form we do not notice it, except that we know we never get ahead to amount to much. We were all tickled when the income tax was enacted, and figured that the rich would get theirs now in proper shape, as the same was graduated and the higher the income the higher the tax, with the very poor man exempt entirely. But what a farce it turned out to be. Just as soon as Mr. Rockefeller had to pay in a hundred millions or so to the government, up went the price of gas about five cents a gallon, and the public paid the income tax. You have no car, and thus escaped? Oh, no you didn't. The grocer and butcher and others who bring your food and other supplies have cars, and the gas price is all figured into your bill for the necessities. The same is true all along the line. Drugs and medicines are all taxed high, and you pay it when you are sick. The coffin trust is taxed high, and your estate or heirs pay it when you die. You pay it every day of your life, in the tobacco you smoke, the milk you drink, the shoes you wear, in the price of the lumber out of which you build your home place—in every thing. The ultimate consumer is the under dog—also the goat. The remedy? We stated it a few days ago in this department. It is for the people by referendum to take away from Congress by Constitutional amendment, and from all State Legislatures, the power of direct taxation. They should never have been given any such power, and we signed away our birthright, and also signed our economic death warrant, when we gave it to them. This is what brings in the millions—aye billions—for the politicians to graft and juggle, and that they do it we all know and have ample proof of. The present income tax is one of the worst impositions ever placed upon the bowed backs of any people. The taxation of our people is now more each year than the entire money circulating medium of the United States. It amounts to hundreds of dollars per annum per family; not a single man, woman or child escapes, and the politicians spend it. When the taxation of the people gets to be 80 per cent per annum of all they make, instead of 40 per cent, as it now is, which it will, in time, then the people will arise in their virtuous wrath and take this direct power of taxation away from politicians, and place it in the hands of the people, to be exercised by vote.

As for the Bolsheviks, Communists, Socialists and similar people, we have nothing against them as individuals, but only as to their economic theories, which are fallacious, mistaken, and in the hands of the ignorant become downright vicious. Wherever the percentage of ignorance is largest, there, also, is the percentage of such doctrines largest. Russia is a fair sample. There 95 per cent of the people cannot read or write. And if a man cannot even read or write, how can he be expected to know about the great economic problems of the world? All such people need education and enlightenment, and in time they will get it, or their descendants will, and then such unsound doctrines will fade away and be forgotten. There can be none of those doctrines put into effect without abject paternalism, and a paternal government is very obnoxious to the average American, who wants and demands personal liberty. He is even objecting right now because his government is paternalistic to tell him he must not pour poisonous decoctions of liquor into his system. In Sparta in the olden days was the same of paternalism. There the boy was put into the army to become a soldier for the State. He was given a vacation of a few months to marry a girl selected for him by the State. There was no individual ownership of anything—everything was the State. That, in effect, is what Communism, Bolshevism and Socialism means. For a living example of it, go to Russia—and starve.

And now let's talk religion, because this is Sunday, and also because our correspondent wants to know if Conan Doyle is wrong what is it that is right. We do not see anything hard about that problem at all. We look out of the window here at the 2nd ranch as this is being written, at the roses and other beautiful flowers, and see the answer in their very beauty and fragrance, the delicate tints of their petals, and in the sunshine dancing on their leaves. Nature and Nature's God, and our God, is an open book that all may read who will.

We got up this morning, as usual, at 5 o'clock, and in fifteen minutes later a burst of sunshine flooded through the window, and we looked out at it, at the reddened eastern sky, at the fruit trees nodding gracefully in the soft morning breeze, at the dewdrops glistening on a thousand rose and other flowers, and we felt very thankful for it all. And then, after feeding the chickens and the cats and kittens, all of whom are our good friends, the loved ones gave us a good breakfast with hot coffee, and we went out in the garden and had a smoke and looked around at all the beauties of Nature and God's handiwork, and felt that it was a good world to live in, and that if all the people were as friendly toward each other as we were toward all of them, there never would be any such things as wars, greed, profiteering, and all that, which brings troubles and sadness to nearly all of God's children.

There is nothing hard about living up to the Golden Rule. Simply do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you. That ought to be easy for any sane-minded person to do. And if you do that, in our humble judgment you need never have any fear about the hereafter. Your little child knows that if it is good you, its loving father, will take care of it. Then why can't you feel that way? We are but the children of a loving Father, and if we are Good He will take care of us. And you know when you are good, and when you are bad, all right, for your conscience tells you that much. And should your little child be naughty, you are not going to torture it and burn it up in a fire, or anything like that—and neither is our Loving Father. That would not be a just God; it would be an atrocious devil, that nobody could love. To say that all things came by mere chance, is foolish.

Common sense should teach us better than that. There is design plainly to be seen in every sign of Nature and Nature's God—our God. It is so plain that everybody who will study it only a little must see it.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and other enthusiasts about spiritualism simply go to an extreme upon that one subject until they become mentally unbalanced, and full of dreams and imaginations which they take as real. Most everybody believes in an immortality, and in a spiritual conscious state after this life, but to our mind that holy desire and belief is made ridiculous by mediums and charlatans who make money by spirit rappings, ouija boards and all that sort of mummerly. No self-respecting spirit is going to have around to help some greedy quack gather in money by rapping on tables, dancing shimmy with ouija boards or oozing out of the pores of mediums at so much per dose.

Way back in 1785 Bobbie Burns said to the field mouse he had plowed up: "The present only touches thee, while I must forward look and though I cannot see, I guess an' fear." So do we all guess and fear, until we arrive at the conclusion that this scribe has—to leave it all to the Wise Power and fear not. We believe that if we come somewhere near living up to that Golden Rule, the Loving Father will lead us over the rough places in life, to where are the still meadow and running brooks—just the same as your little child believes that you, its kind and loving father, will take care of it. If it does the best its little mind knows toward being good.

Years ago we warned the women to be careful about sweeping up dust germs with their trailing skirts, which, maybe, was the reason they cut 'em off. We wish now we had had sense enough to shut up and say nothing. Most all of us talk too much.

Theodore Gier, capitalistic wine man of San Francisco, has been arrested by federal agents for bootlegging and $50,000 worth of his wine nabbed. Mr. Gier is a German and does not believe in obeying the laws of America. Deportation would be a good remedy.

President Harding summoned a few of his cabinet and the big steel magnates of the country to a dinner, and asked that the 12-hour day be done away with in the steel industry. He is right. That is hard work and no man should be compelled to put in any 12-hour shifts. The steel men promised to do something about it.

One lady who broke an umbrella over her husband's head told the judge that it was an accident, as she had no intention of breaking the umbrella.

Since airplanes have become so plentiful it is proposed to put Herbert Hoover in charge of the air. He ought to do well at that, as he made us all eat it during the war, and little else.

Letters continue to pour in upon the Chicago police and authorities, threatening riots and the burning of the city by the Reds unless the 150 labor leaders now in jail are released. Is anarchy greater than law and order and decency in Chicago? We will soon find out. A thorough dumping out is due there, and the deportation of a shipload of flannel-mouth foreigners.

Those who look ahead can see another war in Europe in the not very distant future. It will be started by a combined Russia and Germany and their first victim will be Poland.

Between getting shot by woman and half shot by bootleg brew, the longevity of man is on the toboggan.

It costs our government $22,000 each to train 16,000 aviators during the war. That was several hundred thousand dollars more than it should have been. Who got the money?

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle with his foolish and altogether silly spiritualistic nonsense is as nutty as any driving idiot in a padded cell. If he has any friends or relatives they ought to come over and get him and take him home, and put an ice pack on his head.

Jack Dempsey and Peggy Joyce have been flying around Europe together, both shooting off their hair-trigger mouths, and, sad to relate, posing as typical Americans. He is a prize fighter, with a yellow streak and she is worse. Both are a disgrace to our country.

A New York man claims to have been chased forty blocks by a ghost with one red eye and one white. He probably took a shot of bootleg and then attended one of Conan Doyle's lectures.

A little screw worm along the Amazon river is the most deadly thing in the jungle. And so it is in life—the little things get us, not the man-eating monsters.

Romance Begun In Manila Has Its Ending Here

At a delightful luncheon served to a number of her friends yesterday at her home, Miss Ethel Lambrecht, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lambrecht, announced her engagement to S. R. Hawthorne of St. Louis, Missouri. The engagement is the culmination of a romance began in Manila, where Mr. Hawthorne is a representative of the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Company. Mr. Hawthorne is a Shriner and prominent Elk. Following the wedding which will take place early in August, the young couple will return to Manila. Miss Lambrecht is well known in Richmond where she has a wide circle of friends.

The decorations at the luncheon yesterday were very artistically carried out in pink and white with a beautiful center piece of roses. The guests were Miss Elsie Hering of San Francisco, Miss Helen Brown, Mrs. F. Peterson, Mrs. W. Madera of Berkeley, Mrs. M. B. Walker, Miss Irma Williams of Oakland, Mrs. B. X. Tucker, Mrs. Charles Dows, Miss Anna Kriger, Miss Winifred Conwell, Miss Hazel McCracken, Miss Elizabeth Carwin, Miss Evelyn Jurgenson, Miss Jessie Lambrecht and Mrs. E. C. Lambrecht.

Be Sure You're Right
Your battery may seem to be so full of life that you may conclude everything is O. K.
But it pays to be sure, because batteries sometimes die very suddenly, right when they seem to be in the best of health.
Here at Battery Headquarters we know the facts before we tell you either that your battery is in good shape or that it needs repairs or replacement.

Gladys Walton Tops Big Sunday Bill at the Macdonald

"I'm sorry, but I left my money in another suit."

That was the beginning of things for "The Wise Kid." She wasn't "The Wise Kid" then, but that's a part of the story.

The man who leaned apologetically over the cash register and spoke the words to Rosie Cooper, was sculleryed and immaculately dressed. And what a gentleman!

The proprietor smiled in the fashion that properly precludes the exercise of a heavy boot. But Rosie pushed him aside and rang the amount on the register, paying it herself.

From that beginning, William Slavens McNutt built the story published in the Metropolitan Magazine as "King Deeds," and which will appear at the Macdonald theatre today as a Universal Special Attraction. The star is Gladys Walton, the fascinating flapper heroine of many comedy dramas.

Working out a theme of a New York "wise kid" gaining real wisdom through a romantic misadventure, the story provides humanly interesting roles for the star, David Butler—a star in his own right—and Hal Cooley.

Others in the cast are Fred Lancaster, Henry A. Barrows, Norman Hammond and Lorimer Johnstone. Tod Browning, who directed "No Woman Knows" and "Outside the Law," two big Universal-Jewel productions, guided the filming of "The Wise Kid."

A Western drama, featuring Neal Hart in "The Get Away," Jack Horne in a serial, "Held for Hostage," Snub Pollard in "Pump Your Job," and Mutt and Jeff make a bill that ought to appeal to everybody.

Melange of Mirth And Melody at T. & D. Today

Another attractive bill of pleasing vaudeville, headed by Don Alfonso Zelaya, son of the ex-president of Nicaragua, in his cleverly presented comedy "Who's Shouting," should have no trouble in pleasing the Sunday crowd, at the Richmond T. & D. theatre. Don Alfonso Zelaya, in "Who's Shouting," should prove a solid laughing hit with his humor and original delivery of comedy. His musical efforts should prove a delightful surprise to the music lovers. Baily and Porter, two clever black-face comedians, in a singing, dancing and patter vehicle and Chase and Janis, in dainty bits of musical character will add materially to the quality of this bill. Macena and Tamara, in toe and Spanish dance eccentricities and Alabon in an original pantomime novelty, rounds out this pleasing bill of high class vaudeville.

"Find the Woman," featuring Alma Rubens is the film attraction of the bill.

DOCTORS CLAIMED RECOVERY WAS ALMOST A MIRACLE!

Woman Facing Certain Death from Nervous Disorder Discovers Remedy in Time

Nervous disorders are on the increase. Men and women compelled to go out into the world to battle for a living quite often neglect their health to such an extent that a breakdown is the inevitable result.

Such neglect is criminal. In many instances it leads to fatal consequences. When you have moody spells, feel depressed, begin to have distaste for business or social duties, when you cannot sleep at night—these are sure signs of nervous ailments and should be checked.

Read below of the experience of one woman who, according to her own testimony, was facing death, but who fortunately discovered the right remedy in time, and which brought her back to health and normal strength:

Miss Rena B. Crossland, Kempt, Queen's Co., N.S., writes: "I feel it a duty as well as a privilege, to tell of the wonderful benefits I derived from the use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Tonic Pills. In March, 1917, I had anaemia of the brain and the mental and physical suffering I endured is indescribable. I had treatment from three doctors, and for twelve days was unconscious; while, for three months I was fed and cared for like an infant. My mother was so anxious for me to use Dr. A. W.

Chase's Tonic Pills that she crushed them and baked them in my food. After using two boxes I could feed myself, and after using them for two months, my health improved so rapidly that doctors and friends said my recovery was a miracle. I cannot recommend Dr. A. W. Chase's Tonic Pills too highly, even to those who seem to be facing death."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Medicines are on sale at all first class drug stores. To be sure of getting the genuine, see that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., are on every box. This trade mark is your protection against imitations and substitutes. Advertisment.

Interesting as are the miracles of the Master as they are recorded in the history of his life and ministry, we have utterly failed in our understanding of them until we have come to see in them symbols of analogous accomplishments in the realm of the soul.
He drove the palsy out of the body—as a token of his ability to drive the palsy out of the soul.
What are some of the "withered" faculties of men's lives today—that need to be restored? Just how can such restorations be accomplished?

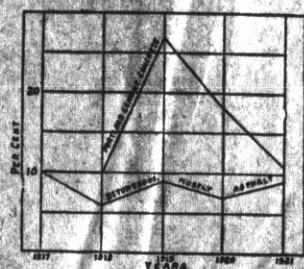

Women Urge Continuance of Fight Against Vice

Representatives of women's organizations totalling 6,000,000 voting members appeared at the semi-annual meeting of the U. S. Inter-departmental Social Hygiene Board in Washington to urge the continuance of this government activity this coming year, at a cost of $225,000.
The Interdepartmental Social Hygiene Board carries on the government war against vice as it affects the health of the men in the army and navy. The secretaries of War, the Navy and the Treasury, and the surgeons general of the army, navy and public health service are members of the board, of which a woman doctor, Dr. Valeria H. Parker is the active head.
This past year, it was shown at the meeting, the social hygiene board saved the government $1,118,000. This is figured from the cost of hospital treatment for men who contract diseases through promiscuous sex relations. The cost of these diseases for 1921 is placed at $4,500,000. In 1920 the cost was $5,518,000. In 1919 it was $15,000,000. During the war period it was $72,000,000.
The rates for social disease in the army and navy have been cut from 91 per 1,000 men per year to 62, due to the closing of red light districts near army and navy stations. The rate among the U. S. troops in Europe where vice openly exists, is about 165 per 1,000 men.
About $500,000 of government funds remains to the credit of various universities and State Boards of Health, applicable to the continuance of the fight against social diseases which the nation is waging for the protection of the health of its men in uniform.
The money was appropriated in 1920 for medical and educational research for the treatment of social diseases and their causes, and for the establishment of free medical clinics for patients unable to afford the cost of private treatment and expensive drugs needed for the cure.

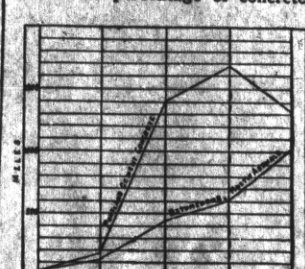

Types of Road Built Under Federal Aid

THE United States Bureau of Public Roads, during the five years 1917 to 1921 inclusive, has approved the expenditure of $18,275,533.08 for the construction of 28,461 miles of Federal aid highways.
The policy favored by the Chief of the Federal Bureau, Thomas H. MacDonald, is to bring about the keenest competition among the various types of pavement. "Competition between different types of material should be maintained and selection made to fit traffic requirements in each case," he said. "The Bureau does not recommend any one type to the exclusion of others."

Of the construction types, higher than waterbound macadam, the keenest race has been between the flexible pavements, represented by the asphaltic types, and those in the rigid class represented by Portland cement concrete. In 1917 the bituminous types, mostly asphalt and the Portland cement concrete type, each represented about 10 per cent of the total mileage paved in that year, the exact mileage being 32.3 for the bituminous types and 33.3 for concrete. In the next year Portland cement concrete remained at from the peak of 27 per cent to 11 per cent, a loss of about 60 per cent, while the bituminous types finished the year 1921 with the same percentage as in 1919, showing no net loss.

Highway engineers are following with keen interest the development of the two types of pavement in the expectation that definite and conclusive data will be obtained as to which type will best meet the needs of traffic on the heavily traveled country highways. The growing importance of the flexible types in the Federal aid system, particularly in 1920 and 1921, may indicate a definite and lasting trend toward the bituminous roadways, especially in view of the fact that the mileage is made up from a very widespread area.

A Question of Fairness

Now and then we sacrifice a new car sale because we will not allow an excessive price for a used car. We do this for the protection of our patrons. If we paid Smith too much, we would have to get it back from Jones. But that would be unfair—and we believe in fairness, even if it hurts.

Iowa Shriner Can't Staw Away, Wires

"Well, old man, the Shriners are comin'. I suppose you're ready for them. By golly, I believe part of them are already here too."
"Sure they are. The ones from the Islands are here ready for business, and it won't be long now till the old bay district will be so full of Shriners a person without a red fez will be quite a curiosity."
"That's true. By the way, I had some good news yesterday in connection with the Shrine convention. My brother back in Iowa is a Shriner, but he didn't plan to come. Well, his wife's been coaxing him, and now they both have decided to come and stay with us several weeks. Haven't seen him for ten years, so we'll have quite a reunion at our house."
"I should say you will. That's great old man. We won't have any special guests ourselves, but I expect to have a lot of fun meeting the visitors, anyway. In fact I'm buying a new suit of clothes for the event. Yes, sir. I went to Cherry's yesterday and bought a fine new suit.
